RISK PROFILE 4

DEFENSIVE BALANCED MIXED ASSETS COMMENTARY

The portfolio delivered a solid return in excess of the benchmark in the second quarter.

We are comfortable with the overall asset allocation of the strategy, but have made some changes at the fund level. In Fixed Income we have sold Fidelity Strategic Bond (6%) in favour of a 5% weighting to Blackrock Sterling Strategic Bond, with the other 1% of the sale proceeds going to Royal London Short Duration Credit. These actions keep the Fixed Income exposure the same at 25% but provides a slightly higher skew towards credit, albeit of the short duration variety, and a core Strategic Bond holding we have greater conviction in.

In equities, as for other strategies, we have trimmed Europe by 1% and allocated proceeds to Old Mutual North American. This is a core holding which does a great job in an environment where active managers can struggle. We have also switched from Blackrock Continental European Income to Miton European Opps as we believe this fund is better suited for the current environment and the manager's stock selection has consistently added value.

In the UK, the model had a large skew towards large cap value and we wanted more balance as we enter the final stages of Brexit negotiations. We selected JOHCM UK Dynamic in place of Premier Income. The yield on the fund is only 1% lower than Premier so we retain a good element of yield without being constrained by income.
